A location like no other

Our two service rooms sit in a natural woodland that you can visit all year round. Families take comfort in the tranquil location that Bretby offers, for the funeral service, and as a place to come and remember their person.

Each room is designed to be calming and comfortable, and you can personalise it to reflect the life and loves of the person who's died.

There's colour change lighting so we can make it exactly how you want it, pink, red, orange or even colour change. Some of our families choose their person's favourite colours, and others choose the colour of their favourite football team. You can also use our sideboards to display your favourite photos or extra flowers.

If you have people that can't make the service, we can arrange a webcast so they can watch online. We can save it as a recording for you to keep, if you'd like.

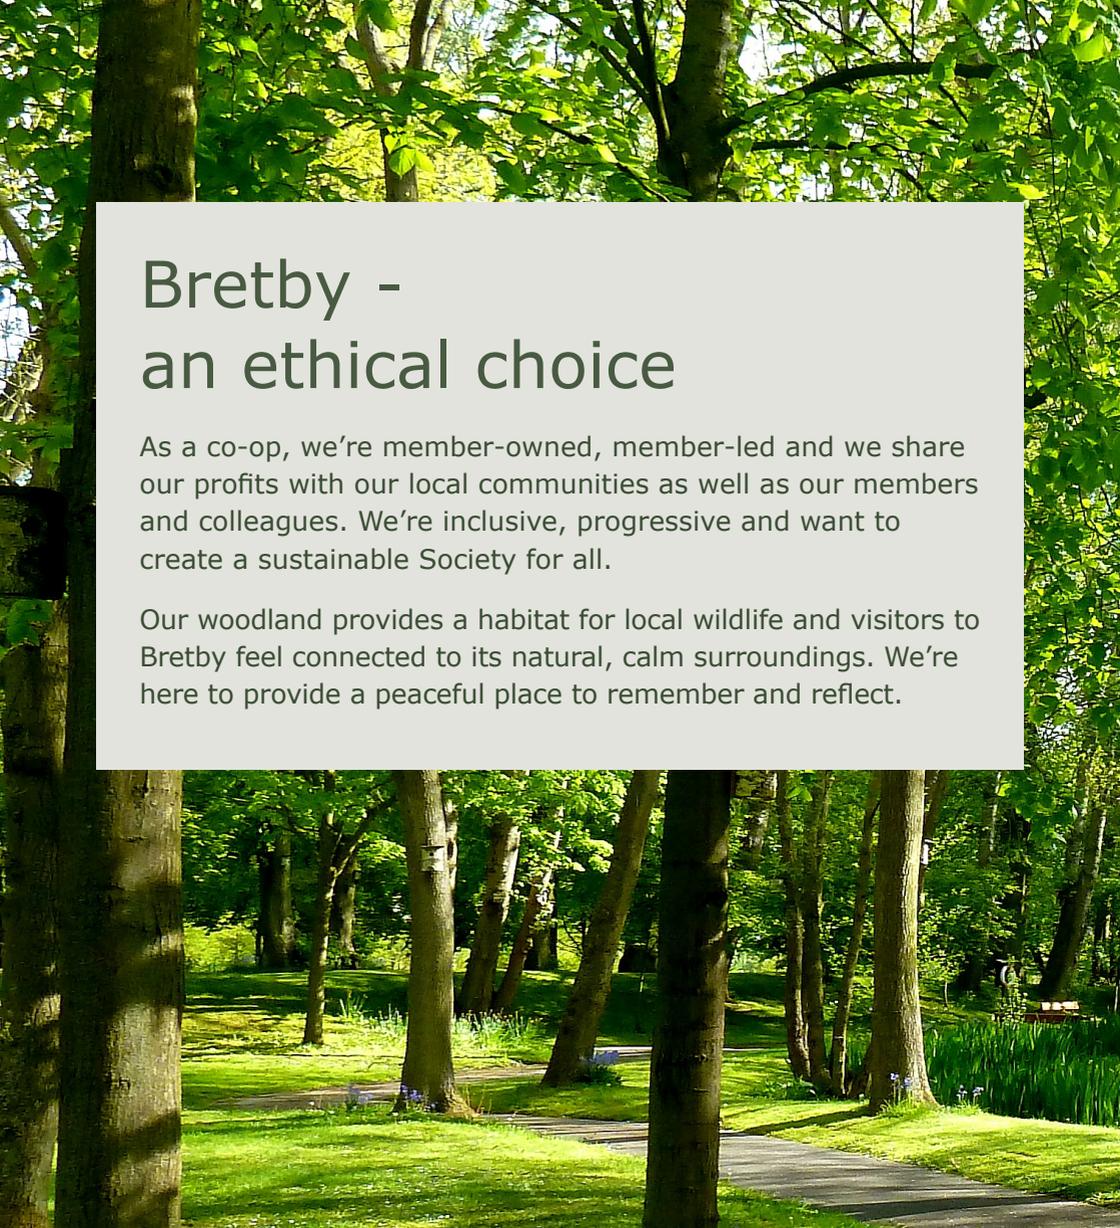

Keepsakes and memorials

Whilst you'll never forget them, we've some lovely ways to remember that special person. Our Book of Remembrance is inscribed by a calligrapher and it's on display all-year-round. You can view a digital copy when visiting Bretby and there's an online Book of Remembrance too.

We're all different, which is why we've many ways to help keep their memory alive. Our Memorial Tree can be found in our flower room and you can add a personalised leaf with their name on. If a piece of unique jewellery appeals, we can help you choose a piece that keeps them close to you.

Bretby - an ethical choice

As a co-op, we're member-owned, member-led and we share our profits with our local communities as well as our members and colleagues. We're inclusive, progressive and want to create a sustainable Society for all.

Our woodland provides a habitat for local wildlife and visitors to Bretby feel connected to its natural, calm surroundings. We're here to provide a peaceful place to remember and reflect.
